

ECCK IPR Committee Seminar

IPR Infringements and Dispute Resolution Options

Tuesday, May 7, 2019, 14:00
Berlin Room, 3F Seoul Square

Event Outline

Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) are essential business assets and a means of creating value and are being developed and exploited on an increasingly international level. This has increased the propensity for IPR infringements, including on the internet, and has brought significant challenges to IPR owners to protect and enforce their rights. To mitigate potential risks associated with IPR infringement, choosing the most efficient mode of dispute resolution is key.

This seminar will touch upon common issues in IP infringements and the dispute resolution options available for resolving these. It will be discussed in which circumstances Alternative Dispute Resolution can provide a cheaper, faster and creative resolution of IPR disputes, including those pertaining to domain names.
